The method of offering the shares to the public, the time frame of actions related to the public offering, and all other conditions of the issue as well as other information about the public offering of shares shall be set out in the Prospectus for the public offering of shares.

The share capital increase shall be carried out in two rounds. In the first round, the new shares shall be offered for purchase to all the shareholders entered in the share register on the day of publication of the Prospectus; these will be able to subscribe and pay for a number of shares proportionate to their respective shareholdings (first round). The deadline for subscription and payment of shares in the first round shall be 30 days from the publication of the Prospectus.

The shares not subscribed and paid for in the first round can be subscribed and paid for in the second round by all the shareholders entered in the share register on the day of the publication of the Prospectus, or, if invited by the Management Board, by third persons. There are no special restrictions as regards the subscription for shares.

All the details with respect to the increase in the share capital in two rounds shall be determined by the Management Board and consented by the Supervisory Board, and published in the Prospectus. The deadline for subscription and payment of shares in the second round shall be 30 days from the date of publication of the announcement of the beginning of the second round.

If the increase in share capital hereunder is not entered into the Companies Register by 31 December 2013, such entry shall become non-binding.

The Supervisory Board of Nova KBM is authorised to adopt necessary amendments to Nova KBM's Articles of Association with the aim of aligning its text with the implemented share capital increase.

5. Proposal to increase the share capital by converting interest accrued on the hybrid loan facility

Counter-proposal for the resolution under Point 5:

The share capital of Nova KBM, which as of the day of adopting this resolution totals €140,814,313 and is split into 137,645,135 ordinary registered freely transferable no-par value shares (existing shares), is increased by contribution in kind resulting from the conversion into Bank equity of interest accrued on the hybrid loan facility, provided to the Bank by the Republic of Slovenia in accordance with the €100 million Hybrid Loan Facility Agreement signed between Nova KBM and the Republic of Slovenia on 31.12.2012, in the amount of €2,410,959.00, via the issuance of 185,458,385 new Nova KBM shares (new shares).

New shares to be issued have the following characteristics/rights:

- issuer: Nova Kreditna banka Maribor d.d., 2000 Maribor, Ulica Vita Kraigherja 4, Registration No. 5860580
- type and identification of shares: Ordinary registered freely transferable no-par value shares issued in book-entry form, ISIN code: SI0021104052, identification: KBMR
- share class: New shares are of the same class as Nova KBM shares already outstanding
- rights attached to new shares: The rights attached to new shares are identical to the rights attached to the ordinary registered shares of Nova KBM already outstanding, i.e.: (1) participation in the management of the Bank (voting right); (2) participation in profits (dividend); and (3) pro-rata distribution of residual assets in case of bankruptcy or liquidation of the Bank
- accountable par value of one share: €0.44328
- share issue price: €0.013
- total amount of the issue: €2,410,959.00
- date of issue: Date of entering new shares into the central registry
- deadline for the subscription and payment of shares: 7 days of the entry of the resolution into the companies register
- If the increase in share capital hereunder is not entered into the Companies Register by 15 July 2013, such entry shall become non-binding

A total of 185,458,385 new shares shall be issued in exchange for in-kind contribution. The pre-emptive rights of existing shareholders to acquire new shares shall be excluded.

New shares shall be paid by contribution in kind. The subject of in-kind contribution is the claim of the Republic of Slovenia (Registration No. 5854814) arising from interest in the amount of €2,410,959.00 accrued on the €100 million hybrid loan facility, provided to Nova KBM, as the borrower, by the Republic of Slovenia, as the lender, in accordance with the Hybrid Loan Facility Agreement dated 31 December 2012. A total of 185,458,385 shall be issued to the Republic of Slovenia in exchange for in-kind contribution.

The Shareholders' Meeting authorizes Nova KBM Supervisory Board to adopt necessary amendments to Nova KBM's Articles of Association with the aim of aligning its text with the implemented share capital increase by in-kind contribution.

Explanation to Point 5:

The €100 Hybrid Loan Facility Agreement was signed between Nova KBM and the Republic of Slovenia on 31 December 2012. According to the agreement, the hybrid loan facility is to be converted into common stock of the Bank if the Nova KBM Group's Core Tier I capital ratio falls to below 7%.

On 18 March 2013, Nova KBM gave an announcement that it would convert the principal of the hybrid loan facility into the Bank's share capital, given that the condition for conversion was fulfilled on 8 March 2013. On 18 April 2013, the Maribor District Court made a decision to register the Bank's share capital increase arising from the conversion of the hybrid loan facility into Bank equity. Since a decision was reached by the Shareholders' Meeting on 11 December 2012 to increase the authorised capital of the Bank by €100 million, it was not possible for the Bank to make a conversion into Bank equity of interest accrued on the €100 million hybrid loan facility. Interest accrued on the hybrid loan facility until the conversion date amounted to €2,410,959.00. The proposed increase in share capital resulting from the conversion into Bank equity of interest accrued on the state-provided hybrid loan facility excludes the pre-emptive rights of shareholders. The conversion of interest into Bank equity shall be made at the rate of €0.013 for each new ordinary no-par value share.

Taking into account the conversion rate and the amount of the claim of the Republic of Slovenia against Nova KBM arising from interest accrued on the €100 million hybrid loan facility, the share capital of the Bank shall be increased by €2,410,959.00 via the issuance of 185,458,385 new ordinary shares, identification KBMR. Following the share capital increase, the accountable par value of one KBMR share will be €0.44328.

The issue price of new shares is lower than it was in the process of converting the principal of the hybrid loan facility into Bank equity, which is due to the fact that the European Commission, in its Regulation State Aid No. SA.35709 (2012/N), defined the criteria for fixing the conversion rate in case the hybrid loan facility is converted into Bank equity. These criteria take into consideration the average market price in the 30-day period prior to the conversion announcement. The market price is calculated on the basis of the TERP (Theoretical ex-rights price) methodology, taking into account a discount of 25% on the conversion price calculated according to this methodology. Since the decision regarding the increase in authorised capital and the conversion into Bank equity of the principal of the hybrid loan facility, adopted by the Shareholders' Meeting on 11 December 2012, did not take into consideration the TERP methodology for calculating the share price, it is now necessary to convert interest into the Bank's share capital by taking into account the conversion rate that should have been used for converting the entire hybrid loan facility, which is €0.360 for one share. Taking into account the issue price of new shares determined in the process of converting the principal of the hybrid loan facility into Bank equity, the new issue price to be used for the purpose of converting interest into Bank equity must now be set at €0.013 for one share.

Following the capital increase, the share capital of the Bank is expected to amount to €143,225,272.08, while the total number of outstanding ordinary no-par value shares of Nova KBM will reach 323,103,520.
