<sup>4</sup> Net profit/loss per share is calculated as the ratio between the annualised net profit or loss attributable to owners of the parent and the weighted average number of Bank shares in the reporting period. 10,000,000 KBMS shares were taken into account in the calculation of data for the end of 2013.

<sup>5</sup> Book value per share on the last day of the reporting period is calculated as the ratio between the equity attributable to owners of the parent and the total number of Bank shares outstanding on the last day of the reporting period.

Statement by the Management Board

Dear Sirs,

In the last month of 2013, we saw the end of the period during which Nova KBM had a prominent position as having the largest number of shareholders of any company in Slovenia. Since 18 December 2013, the Republic of Slovenia has been the sole owner and shareholder of Nova KBM. After the results were published on 12 December 2013 of stress tests that had been conducted in several Slovene banks by independent reviewers, recapitalisation worth €870 million was provided to Nova KBM by the state, while the holders of Nova KBM shares, as well as holders of hybrid notes, and bonds with characteristics of innovative instruments issued by Nova KBM were expropriated. The legal basis for the cancellation of shares and subordinated instruments referred to above was the extraordinary measures imposed on Nova KBM by the Bank of Slovenia on the basis of the latest amendments to the Banking Act.

We at Nova KBM understand the huge disappointment of holders of shares, hybrid notes, and bonds with characteristics of innovative instruments issued by our Bank, who have been left without these assets as a result of measures imposed by the Bank of Slovenia, and a capital injection into the Bank made by the Ministry of Finance of the Republic of Slovenia. Many investors, especially those who decided to participate in our 2007 initial public offering of shares because they had confidence in our performance, now feel that the Bank has not met their expectations. In this regard, we wish to clarify that regular banking business, and investment in equities and other securities issued by the Bank, are two different types of operation, which are based on different assumptions with respect to the level and type of risk accepted by customers and investors. We are confident that in the provision of regular banking services, such as deposits, loans and other types of financing, we have managed to fully, or at least to large extent, justify the confidence of our customers by helping them overcome their financial problems and meet their development objectives, always in accordance with the laws governing the banking business.

The current Management Board, which took over the running of the Bank in 2012, is, along with the senior management team, making every effort to investigate past business practices and decisions. Our principal objective is to transform the Bank into a more efficient financial institution whose success is built on high ethical and professional standards; thereby justifying the confidence of its customers and owners. We would like the reasons for past improper business practices that have contributed to the present high level of non-performing loans to be examined in full, and responsibility assigned. With respect to past transactions that have been identified as involving irregularities, or even criminal conduct, we have already filed actions for damages against several individuals, in addition to bringing charges in cases where a suspicion of criminal activity exists. We are actively helping the competent authorities resolve the issues related to past operations of the Bank, and we are determined to do whatever necessary to protect the interests of the Bank and its customers in the future.

Performance of Nova KBM in the last quarter of 2013

The implementation of adopted business policies and measures aimed at improving the performance of the Bank was reflected in the results of our operations for the last quarter of 2013. On 1 October 2013, the organisational structure of Nova KBM became slimmer and more efficient, which helped us achieve significant cost savings at the Group level. A total of 247 cost-cutting measures, the implementation of which started vigorously in autumn 2012, are expected to bring down our operating costs by €12.4 million. Also, in the last quarter of 2013, a number of steps were taken that have led to an improvement in the loan process and early warning system for potentially distressed loans, resulting in a reduction of credit and operational risks. At the end of December 2013, the legal transfer of bad loans to the Bank Asset Management Company (BAMC) took place, while the physical transfer of these loans will be conducted gradually in five tranches, presumably by the end of April.

Taking into consideration the deteriorating economic conditions and the results of the assets quality review, in 2013 the Group set aside significant provisioning expenses, as a result of which it incurred a pre-tax loss from continuing operations of €611.6 million. The December 2013 recapitalisation of Nova KBM significantly boosted the capital base of the Group, strengthening its total capital adequacy ratio to 19.18% as of 31 December 2013.

Fresh capital constitutes a commitment to act decisively to carry on the restructuring programme of the Bank and the Nova KBM Group

The decision of the Bank of Slovenia, as the regulator of the national financial system, regarding the recapitalisation has to be understood in the light of actions taken to ensure the future development of Nova KBM. Namely, the results of the stress tests have shown that, in the case of the worst-case scenario of deteriorating economic conditions, the Bank would suffer from a significant lack of capital. In addition, the results of the independent asset quality review mentioned above revealed that, owing to an increasing number of defaulting customers, the Bank would need to set aside additional provisioning expenses for last year, as a result of which it would report a substantial loss for the end of the year. The (expected) year-end amount of loss assessed on the basis of this review, as well as additional capital requirements arising from the results of the stress tests, were covered by the aforementioned capital injection, which only the Republic of Slovenia was able to provide within such a short period.

As regards the rehabilitation of banks, the Republic of Slovenia is obliged to comply with the regulations governing the provision of state aid within the EU. These regulations stipulate that the government may recapitalise a troubled bank that is undergoing a rehabilitation process, but only after the identified loss is fully covered by the existing equity holders, i.e. the shareholders and holders of subordinated instruments. After due consideration of various options, the Government of the Republic of Slovenia had to adopt measures necessary to ensure conditions for the successful performance of banks in the future, and to restore the stability of the financial system. Given that Nova KBM is a systemically important bank and that any disruption in its operations may entail considerable risks to the national financial stability, it was entitled to state aid and a capital injection from the Republic of Slovenia. The state aid will help the Bank ensure successful and reliable performance in the long run, at the same time giving the Bank the obligation to justify the receipt of the aid and to fulfil the commitments under the state aid regulations and regulations governing the banking business.

In December 2013, the European Commission approved the restructuring programme for the Nova KBM Group, which the Bank was obliged to prepare in accordance with the rules of the European Commission because it benefited from state aid through capital injections in 2012 and 2013. The restructuring programme takes into consideration the declaration by the Republic of Slovenia to sell Nova KBM by the end of 2016 at the latest. The commitments set out in the restructuring programme will be cancelled upon the sale taking place, and the implementation of the adopted strategy, or the drafting of a new one, will be the responsibility of the new owner. The main goal of the restructuring programme is to restore the profitability and vitality of Nova KBM. The restructuring programme encompasses 16 umbrella commitments that the Bank and the Republic of Slovenia must fulfil by the end of 2017, of which some of the most important are as follows: a reduction in NPLs in the total loan portfolio; gradual downsizing of total assets; a reduction in operating costs and a streamlining of business processes, including the optimisation of the branch network; improvements in the corporate governance system as well as the risk management and the loan origination models; focus of the Nova KBM Group on traditional banking services; and divestment, i.e. the sale of non-strategic assets. In line with the latter two commitments, in 2012 Nova KBM sold its shareholding in Zavarovalnica Maribor, while in 2013 it injected additional capital into PBS to increase its shareholding to 99.1%, and purchased from the Republic of Serbia the shares of KBM Banka to become its 89.53% majority shareholder. Changes are also expected to take place in the leasing segment. The option is being considered to integrate the leasing business into Nova KBM, for which a licence has already been obtained from the Bank of Slovenia.

The future of Nova KBM and the Nova KBM Group

Nova KBM has over 150 years of tradition of providing banking and other financial services. Since its foundation, it has overcome numerous challenges.

In a century and a half, it has managed to build its reputation by providing first-class banking services and developing professional customer relationships. Neither the management nor any of the other employees are indifferent to how the Bank performs and the level of confidence that is placed in it. Over the last year and a half, we have implemented a number of measures to improve the performance of the Bank and restructure the entire Nova KBM Group, some of which have already started to show positive results. All this is being done with a view and commitment to becoming a permanently successful financial institution.

Nova KBM is already today a robust and well-performing bank with a strong liquidity position. It employs staff with a vast range of experience and qualifications, who are able to provide all kinds of first-class financial services. We are strongly committed to setting up an operating environment that will prevent any of the irregularities we have seen in the past from occurring in the future.

Nova KBM is again, as has been the case several times during its history, at a turning point. The Republic of Slovenia has recently reclaimed its position as the sole shareholder of the Bank. Through the provision of high-quality services, and through mutual respect and a professional attitude we will strive to retain and even strengthen the relationships with our customers, including those who had been shareholders of our Bank until 18 December 2013.

Shareholder structure and information on shares

Following the recapitalisation of Nova KBM in December 2013, the Republic of Slovenia became the only owner of all of the 10,000,000 ordinary no-par value shares issued by Nova KBM. The changes in the shareholder structure of Nova KBM in 2013 are presented in the chart below.

In anticipation of the publication of the banks' asset quality review results, on 2 December 2013 the Ljubljana Stock Exchange determined that not all of the conditions for fair, regulated and efficient trading in bank shares and subordinated instruments had been met. Therefore, in accordance with the applicable legislation and its competences, it decided to suspend the trading in KBMR shares as of that date. On 12 December 2013, the Bank of Slovenia revealed the Report on Due Diligence of the Slovene Banking System, and presented the measures to be taken to stabilise the Slovene financial sector. Based on the consent of the European Commission regarding the provision of state aid for five Slovene banks, including Nova KBM, on 18 December 2013 the Ministry of Finance of the Republic of Slovenia injected €870 million of fresh capital into Nova KBM after all qualified liabilities of Nova KBM, which comprised obligations arising from the Bank's share capital and obligations to the holders of its subordinated financial instruments, had been written off in accordance with an extraordinary measure taken by the Bank of Slovenia. The European Commission agreed to the restructuring programme of Nova KBM in order to ensure the long-term financial stability of the Bank and, consequently, of the Slovene banking system.

Information on KBMS shares

As of 31 December 2013, the share capital of Nova KBM totalled €150,000,000 and was split into 10,000,000 ordinary no-par value shares with the ticker symbol KBMS. KBMS shares are not quoted on a regulated capital market. Nova KBM has issued only one class of shares which are all freely transferable and bear the same rights. Each ordinary share entitles its holder to one vote at the Bank Shareholders' Meeting. The rights of the holders of ordinary shares are set out in the relevant legislation of the Republic of Slovenia.

Operating results of the Nova KBM Group

For the year ended 31 December, the Group reported a pre-tax, pre-provision profit from continuing operations of €61,812,000. The high level of provisioning expenses, which caused the Group to incur a net loss of €648,386,000 for 2013, was, apart from the deteriorating economic conditions, the result of an independent asset quality review carried out in December 2013, based on which the Group was requested to set aside a significant amount of impairment losses for its loan portfolio.

All banks in the Group, the leasing division, KBM Invest, and Moja naložba, the Group's associated company providing voluntary supplementary pension insurance, posted a loss for 2013.

Compared to 2012, the income generated by the Group declined by €28,603,000, mainly as a result of lower interest income reported by the Group banks, in part reflecting a change in the structure and volume of business. A fairly high level of impairment of interest also had a negative effect on interest income.

Operating costs incurred by the Group in 2013 totalled €121,366,000, up 0.7% on 2012. The year-on-year decrease in staff and material costs was offset by higher costs of services owing to the extraordinary expenses related to the restructuring and a due diligence review, as well as to advisory fees associated with the sale of Zavarovalnica Maribor. For 2013 as a whole, the Group's and Nova KBM's cost-to-income ratios stood at 66.26% and 57.20%, respectively.

Financial position of the Nova KBM Group

At the end of 2013, the Group's total assets amounted to €4,830.4 million, down €491.4 million on the end of 2012, with Nova KBM registering the largest drop. The decline in total assets was in line with the commitments set out in the Group's restructuring programme.

Net loans and advances to customers decreased year-on-year by €1,138.3 million, partially as result of additional impairment losses set aside for the loan portfolio, and partially due to the transfer of bad loans to BAMC.

As of 31 December 2013, available-for-sale financial assets totalled €1,466.9 million, up €877.5 million on the end of 2012. The increase was attributable to bonds worth €389.9 million, which the Bank received in exchange for transferring bad loans to BAMC, and bonds (RS62, RS67 and RS69) worth €250 million, provided to the Bank by the Republic of Slovenia as part of the recapitalisation scheme.

In addition to providing bonds, the Republic of Slovenia recapitalised the Bank by making a cash injection of €258 million, and by converting a €361 million deposit from the Ministry of Finance into equity. Deposits from customers decreased by €539.4 million to €3,079.3 million at the end of 2013, in part reflecting the conversion of state deposits into equity, with the remaining decline being attributed to a year-on-year drop in deposits placed with the Bank by households and other financial organisations. This decrease was partially offset by a rise in deposits from non-financial companies.

Loans from banks saw a decrease of €161.1 million. The largest proportion of this decrease was attributable to the prepayment of a long-term loan facility by Nova KBM, while the remaining amount related to the scheduled repayments of loans.

The balance of subordinated liabilities went down in 2013 as a result of the extraordinary measure to write off all of the qualified liabilities of Nova KBM in order to cover its loss.

The increase in the Group's total equity at the end of 2013 was attributable mainly to an €870 million capital injection into Nova KBM, which the Ministry of Finance of the Republic of Slovenia provided after all of the qualified liabilities of Nova KBM had been written off. The capital injection made by the state was partially offset by a net loss incurred by the Group, so the total equity of the Group amounted to €597.8 million at the end of 2013.

The Group's Tier I capital ratio stood at 19.10% at the end of 2013.
